PERTINENT COMMENT ON COAL

(From the Rocky Mountain News, Denver)

The horror of the shambles at Ludlow is even belittling. Not only is it a tragedy with a pitiless red men reeking vengeance upon innocent white men, but it is a tragedy in which women and children have this Western country's most cruel and unfeeling death.

The details of the massacre are too horrible to relate. Mexico offers no barbarity so bad as that of murder of defenseless men, women and children by the mine guards in so-called "peace" time. The details are too horrible to relate. The details are too horrible to relate. The details are too horrible to relate.

Out of this inferno one fact stands clear. Machine guns, most of them owned by the mine guards, were used in the massacre. The machine guns were in the hands of the mine guards, most of them owned by the mine guards. The machine guns were in the hands of the mine guards, most of them owned by the mine guards.

Whether or not the demands of the strikers in Colorado are excessive, the wholesale slaughter of their defenseless women and children is a crime against American civilization. The slavers must be stopped. The slavers must be stopped. The slavers must be stopped.

These millionaires and mine guards were paid to protect the lives and property of the miners. They were paid to protect the lives and property of the miners. They were paid to protect the lives and property of the miners.

COAL STRIKE COSTS STATE $15,000,000

Colorado's great coal strike began September 2, 1913, and at the end of seven months the cost to the state has been estimated in round numbers at $15,000,000. In addition to the $15,000,000, the state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike. The state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike. The state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike.

Through the day's headquarters in Denver, the state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike. The state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike. The state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike.

When interests only are represented in arriving at the total value of the strike, the state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike. The state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike. The state has been ordered to pay the cost of the strike.

Through its research, highway engineers have found that the road building by contract is the best method of road building. The road building by contract is the best method of road building.

EVERYDAY PATRIOTISM

With all that is being said about patriotism and national honor it seems doubtful if many who use the terms have any clear idea of what they mean. The word patriotism is a word that is used by many people, but few of them know what it means.

His grandfather and grandmother, we will have been patriotic and have inherited a patriotism from them. His grandfather and grandmother, we will have been patriotic and have inherited a patriotism from them.

HIGHER WAGES NOT BLAMED

Washington, May 2.—Figures disproving the charge that the coal strike has forced them to ask permission to raise freight rates were submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Dr. Frank J. Wagoner, a statistician, who is a member of the Senate Commerce Committee.

The figures show that the gross value of the products of the coal fields of the United States last year was the largest in their history. The increase in revenue of 1912 for all roads averaged 21.9 percent, or more than 10 percent. The Pennsylvania lines showed an increase of nearly 40 percent, or 11 percent.
